Books

Calvo, Cristina, Humberto Shikiya, Deivit Montealegre, eds. 2017. Ética Y Economía: La Relación Dañada: Parte 1, Aportes Camino al G-20 2018 En El Marco de La Agenda 2030. Globethics.net. Accessed March 28, 2026. <https://doi.org/10.58863/20.500.12424/167086>.

Abstract: La ecoeconomía, el bien común global, las desigualdades estructurales, la protección del trabajo, el financiamiento del crimen, la corrupción, la responsabilidad social empresaria y el financiamiento para el desarrollo influyen en la vida de las naciones y las personas, pero la ética suele faltar en las acciones globales y en las políticas públicas. El predominio del sistema financiero internacional, los modelos económicos ajenos a las necesidades reales y las políticas incapaces de cubrir carencias básicas revelan la ausencia de justicia y ética necesarias para soluciones equitativas; este debate multidisciplinario busca contribuir a ese esfuerzo.

Calvo, Cristina, Humberto Shikiya, Deivit Montealegre, eds. 2020. Ética Y Economía: La Relación Dañada. Parte 2, Profundizando Los Modos De Un Auténtico Desarrollo Humano Integral Sostenible. Globethics.net. Accessed March 28, 2026. <https://doi.org/10.58863/20.500.12424/3928959>

Abstract: Esta segunda parte de Ética y Economía reúne los temas centrales de los tres Diálogos de Alto Nivel posteriores al primero de 2016. Los capítulos abordan los desafíos del desarrollo desde una perspectiva de inclusión social, considerando el impacto de la tecnología y la automatización en el trabajo, las finanzas, las relaciones de género y la sostenibilidad ambiental. Las conclusiones de los cuatro diálogos fueron presentadas como Recomendaciones al Foro Global del G20 Interfaith, abriendo una nueva etapa para profundizar, mediante el debate multidisciplinario, la búsqueda de soluciones justas y sostenibles.

Dubinsky, Joan Elise, and Alan Richter. 2020. Global Ethics & Integrity Benchmarks. Accessed March 28, 2026. <http://hdl.handle.net/20.500.12424/3933424>.

Abstract: Global Ethics & Integrity Benchmarks (GEIB) is a tool for helping organizations assess and measure their progress in integrating ethics and integrity throughout their workplaces. It enables organizations, leaders, and their boards to identify specific actions to enhance performance. Although conditions and attitudes can vary, these benchmarks are global because of their worldwide applicability. Making these benchmarks global has certainly been a challenge. We believe they address the need for a universal systemic approach to workplace ethics and integrity.

For Genuine Business Ethics: Celebrating the 30th Anniversary of the Business Ethics Center of the Corvinus University of Budapest. 2023. Business Ethics Center, Corvinus University of Budapest. Accessed March 28, 2026. <http://hdl.handle.net/20.500.12424/4300530>.

Abstract: This book celebrates the 30th anniversary of the Business Ethics Center of the Corvinus University of Budapest. It documents the Center's continuous fight for genuine business ethics in the years 1993–2023. Our teaching, research and networking activities at home and abroad aim to broaden and deepen the view that academics, businesspeople, and policymakers have when facing pressing problems of the age of the Anthropocene.

Frischherz, Bruno, Baocheng Liu, Xiaosong Li, et al. 2023. Intercultural Business Ethics (IBE): A Teaching Handbook. Globethics Publications. Accessed March 28, 2026. <https://doi.org/10.58863/20.500.12424/4266298>.

Abstract: This book is a practical handbook for lecturers teaching Intercultural Business Ethics (IBE) in higher education. It is the result of collaboration between lecturers from South Africa, China and Switzerland in an ongoing intercultural teaching project. The basic idea is that students discuss ethical dilemmas from the business world in culturally mixed groups and present their joint solution proposals in a short video. The book aims to help facilitators of the peaceful coexistence of countries and cultures.

Ogara, William Otiende and Globethics, eds. 2024. Ethical Leadership and Investment for a Sustainable Future: A Reference Manual. Globethics Publications. Accessed March 28, 2026. <https://doi.org/10.58863/20.500.12424/4318992>. [Also available as a French Translation <https://doi.org/10.58863/20.500.12424/4321210>]

Abstract: This Reference Manual has been prepared as a result of the African Church Assets Programme (ACAP) journey, initiated by the All Africa Conference of Churches (AACC) General Assembly in Kampala, Uganda in 2013, and provides case studies, actionable steps, and self-assessment tools to guide leaders of churches and church-related organizations in promoting ethical, transparent, accountable, and integrity-driven leadership that fosters transformative change and strengthens trust within their communities.

Robinson, Bryan, Georges Enderle. 2024. *Global Survey of Business Ethics 2022-2024: Teaching, Research and Training. Vol. 1, Introduction and Africa.* Globethics Publications. Accessed March 28, 2026. <https://doi.org/10.58863/20.500.12424/4312479>.

Abstract: The Global Survey of Business Ethics 2022–2024 (GSBE) includes 36 country and regional reports produced over three years by 94 reporters, resulting in three volumes. Volume 1 contains the project introduction and the African country reports. The introduction outlines the history behind the GSBE, the development process, key themes guiding data collection, the methodologies and sample sizes used, and how the findings were analyzed and presented. It also includes survey excerpts and translations. The African section features reports from Angola, Burundi, Kenya, Mozambique, Namibia, Nigeria, Rwanda, South Africa, and Uganda.

Robinson, Bryan, Georges Enderle. 2024. *Global Survey of Business Ethics 2022-2024: Teaching, Research and Training. Vol. 2, Asia, Australia, Russia and America.* Globethics Publications. Accessed March 28, 2026. <https://doi.org/10.58863/20.500.12424/4316505>.

Abstract: Volume 2 of The Global Survey of Business Ethics 2022–2024 (GSBE) provides a brief introduction and presents 13 reports from Asia, Australia, Russia, South America, and North America. This volume covers seven of the world’s ten most populous countries—India, China, the United States, Indonesia, Brazil, Russia, and Mexico—representing more than half of the global population, offering valuable insights into diverse business ethics issues. Reports included are from Mainland China, Hong Kong, Macau, Japan, Indonesia, the Philippines, India, Australia, Russia, Latin America, Brazil, the United States, and Mexico.

Robinson, Bryan, Georges Enderle. 2024. *Global Survey of Business Ethics 2022-2024: Teaching, Research and Training. Vol. 3, Europe.* Globethics Publications. Accessed March 28, 2026. <https://doi.org/10.58863/20.500.12424/4316506>.

Abstract: Volume 3 provides a brief introduction to the Global Survey of Business Ethics 2022–2024 and presents the European reports. The findings range from strong alignment with international standards such as PRME in Ireland and EU Directives in Denmark to challenges with non-financial reporting in Italy and issues of post-war reconstruction and ethical leadership in Ukraine. This volume includes reports from the Czech Republic, Denmark, Estonia, France, Germany-Austria-Switzerland, Hungary, Ireland, Italy, the Netherlands, Romania, Slovakia, Spain, and Ukraine.

Reports

Green, Erin, and Fadi Daou, eds. 2025. Global Ethics Forum 2024: Ethical Leadership for a Re-Envisioned Future: Policy Report. Globethics Publications. Accessed March 28, 2026. <https://doi.org/10.58863/20.500.12424/4321230>.

Abstract: Under the theme "Re-envisioning the Future in an Ethical Multistakeholder Perspective," the Global Ethics Forum (GEF) 2024 facilitated critical discussions on ethical leadership, innovative solutions, and policy recommendations to address global challenges. Through these discussions, the forum advanced policy recommendations that amplified the voices of underrepresented groups and set a global agenda that integrates ethics as a cornerstone for peace, governance, economics, and technological innovation.

Ondji'i Toung, Richard. 2020. Valeurs éthiques en jeu dans la diplomatie économique africaine au 21ème siècle: liberté, justice et paix=Ethical values at stake in African economic diplomacy in the 21st century: freedom, justice and peace. Accessed March 28, 2026. <http://hdl.handle.net/20.500.12424/3942686>.

Résumé: Dans ses relations politiques et économiques bilatérales et multilatérales avec d'autres régions du monde, comment l'Afrique peut-elle comme une entité politique unique, faire entendre sa voix auprès de ses pairs pour négocier ou alors renégocier sa liberté, la justice dans ses rapports avec l'extérieur et la paix en son sein ? Telle est la question à laquelle cet article se propose de répondre. Il ne s'agit pas seulement de dire en quoi la liberté, la paix et la justice sont des préoccupations fondamentales pour l'Afrique dans ce petit village qu'est devenu le monde, mais aussi et surtout de dire comment y parvenir en vue du développement et du meilleur positionnement de ce continent sur la scène internationale.

Theses

Ben Ameer, Yosra. 2024. Essai Sur La Relation Entre L'éthique Et Le Droit Des Affaires. Partie 1, La Réception De L'éthique Par Le Droit Des Affaires. Globethics Publications. Accessed March 28, 2026. <https://doi.org/10.58863/20.500.12424/4302395>.

Ben Ameer, Yosra. 2024. Essai Sur La Relation Entre L'éthique Et Le Droit Des Affaires. Partie 2, La Protection De L'éthique Par Le Droit Des Affaires. Globethics Publications. Accessed March 28, 2026. <https://doi.org/10.58863/20.500.12424/4303019>.

Résumé: Ce livre en deux parties, issu d'une thèse doctorale en droit, vise à dissiper l'idée d'une incompatibilité entre l'éthique, entendue à la fois comme système normatif de valeurs et comme commandement de ce qui doit être considéré comme juste, et son application dans l'éthique et le droit des affaires. Pour atteindre cet objectif, le Dr Ben Ameer offre une analyse rigoureuse et équilibrée de concepts situés à l'intersection de deux champs sémantiques complémentaires. L'ouvrage résulte d'un travail mené en codirection entre la Faculté de Droit et des Sciences politiques de Sousse en Tunisie et l'Université Sorbonne Paris-Nord en France.
